GRANULA.

PREPARED FROM WINTER WHEAT, containing all the nutritious elements of gluten, and is the best food made for infants and children. It is a PURE COOKED FOOD, ready for immediate table use, and YEAST POWDER is not necessary to have it properly unaleavened in quality. Unequaled as a diet for cases of nervous exhaustion and debility, constipation and dyspepsia. It has been used for years by Dr. J. C. Jackson in our Home Hygienic Institute, at Dansville, N. Y., with remarkable success. It is one of the cheapest foods in use, a pound of it containing more nutritious elements for the blood and body than an equal weight of any preparation in the market.

As a food for children it is unsurpassed.

Granula is put up in neat and attractive packages of one pound each.

Granula is so cheap that it can be used as a daily food.

and all the various diseases of the Head, Throat, Lungs and Stomach; EYE, EAR and HEART, successfully treated by

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M. D., M. C. P. S. O.

Office at 275 North Main street, next the Diamond House, Los Angeles, California.

All diseases of the Head, Throat and Chest; viz: Catarrh, Tarost Diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Catarrhal Deafness, Catarrhal Opthalmia and Diseases of the Heart treated by his new and improved system of Medicated Inhalations, which carry the remedies directly to the diseased parts, thereby effecting cures in many of these so-called incurable diseases, a part of whose list we append, not the slightest idea of ever being cured.

In order to show the afflicted public how easily and quickly lung diseases can be cured by our system of practice, we append the following letter from a reverend gentleman who is known by many residents of Los Angeles and all over the Northwestern and Eastern States, and because the subject of the letter is to-day living and a stout, healthy man, and still residing in the State of Michigan.

From Rev. L. R. Fiske, D. D., President Albion College, Albion, Mich., formerly pastor Central M. E. church, Detroit, Mich., and editor of the Christian Advocate:

DEARBORN, Mich., Sept. 22, 1879.

DR. WILLIAMS—Dear Sir. I am glad to add my testimony to the efficacy of the treatment my son has received. In the spring of 1877, my son, then at the age of 24, was suffering from a severe affection of the bronchial tubes and lungs, so as to be compelled to keep his room, and some of the time his bed. In the course of two weeks he experienced about a dozen hemorrhages, from which the ordinary remedies afforded but temporary relief. I applied to you, who supplied him with inhaling medicines, which effected an immediate arrest of the bleeding, and which has never occurred since he began the inhalation, and which fully restored him to health.

Our Eastern friends would aid greatly upon climatic influences alone, for herein lies the fatal mistake. Nearly every case requires positive medication, so as to become rid of the offending matter—the consolidated portions of the diseases to give nature an opportunity to heal them.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult me in regard to their cases can do so at my office, or, if they prefer, by letter. Medicines sent to all parts of the country by express. Patients can be treated at home by correspondence. Those who desire to consult me by mail will please write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address

ENLARGED SHEET.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1884.

The "Examiner" and "The Bloody Shirt."

Yesterday the editor of the TIMES was reluctantly compelled, in consequence of the San Francisco Examiner's inexcusable personal assault upon himself, to indulge in a rejoinder which might be construed as somewhat personal in its references. A personal controversy in this case was wholly needless, and the Examiner is culpable for indulging in it. We are innocent.

We now wish to "hurl" some pertinent observations, in the shape of legitimate argument, at that journal on the subject of "The Bloody Shirt."

For twenty years our friends the enemy have rolled this phrase as a sweet morsel under their tongues. When the men who, with their lives and fortunes saved the country, have referred to the character and the results of the rebellion by the rebels and their Northern allies, they have been accused of flaunting "the bloody shirt." When we have expressed serious doubts as to whether those who deliberately, through a four years' struggle, and by every conceivable device, labored to destroy the nation, can now be safely entrusted to direct its affairs, we have been told that it is insufferably mean to revive the issues of the war and swing "the bloody shirt." When two men have been nominated for the same office—one of them with a record like that of Garfield or Logan, a record of self-sacrificing loyalty, a record written in scars—the other with a record like that of Hendricks, of intense disloyalty and persistent obstruction at a time of unspeakable national distress and danger, and as entirely justified by their conduct, we have eulogized one and condemned the other, the vilest epithets have been heaped upon us for trying to make capital out of "the bloody shirt." And in this senseless hue and cry, this attempt to wink out of sight events that carried the country to the verge of destruction; in the false, dangerous, damnable assumption that as a legislator, subsequent to his treason, Benedict Arnold would have been entitled to the same confidence and respect that were enthusiastically accorded to Washington; in laboring to establish in the public mind the absurd, the utterly preposterous idea that deliberate, unquestioned, protracted, infernal disloyalty, to the extent of shooting down men whose only crime was that they were laboring to save their country from destruction, is not the slightest disqualification for high office under the government thus sought to be destroyed, the San Francisco Examiner, a party "patriotic" and honest journal, has, in season and out of season, ever since the election, piped its little song. Now, by a very simple process, we propose to test the "honesty" of the Examiner, to which it is the chief if not the only witness. We will therefore suppose a case:

The Examiner owns a costly building and machinery, used in carrying on an extensive and a perfectly legitimate business. The concern is on so large a scale that for its security as well as its efficiency it needs a faithful, a vigilant, a thoroughly competent manager. Believing that it has found a man (whom we will suppose, by way of illustration merely, to be Mr. Clarence Greathouse) possessing these high qualifications, it employs him for that special purpose. But in process of time he becomes completely possessed and inspired by envy and jealousy, by hatred and malignity so infamous, so infernal, that he applies the torch to the very buildings of which he was well paid to have oversight, intending to destroy the business he was employed to protect and foster. The Examiner calls to its men to rush to the spot, and by every means in their power to extinguish the flames. They nobly respond. But that manager, a fiend in human form, with musket in hand, shoots down those noble men for attempting to defeat his diabolical scheme. Though he does not accomplish his entire purpose, yet, beside destroying many valuable lives, he so damages the property that even partially to recover itself, the Examiner is obliged to mortgage so heavily every dollar's worth of its possessions, that the present manager, with the most rigid economy, will not live long enough to pay the enormous debt. And yet, in the exuberance of its magnanimity, the Examiner does not charge the culprit with murder, and demand his life, as it has an undoubted right to do; it bids him go and do better hereafter. He is comparatively quiet for a while; but in a short time he returns, and has the audacity, the effrontery, the incredible cheek to demand restoration to his former position, declaring vociferously that he has done nothing to tarnish his character or forfeit implicit confidence. And when the Examiner reminds him that his record of treachery, incendiarism and murder is against him, with a degree of assurance for which there is no name, he waxes indignant, and almost frothing at the mouth, swears that it is ineffably contemptible to revive the issues of former days and "swing the bloody shirt."

But would the Examiner reinstate the old manager who, notwithstanding the lapse of time, is still a criminal so deeply dyed that our vocabulary furnishes no term that describes him? It is a simple question, but so pertinent that it will bear repetition. Would the Examiner reinstate the old manager? And is it an insult to him—is it "taunting the bloody shirt" to tell him why his request ought not to be granted?

Moral: 1. Under the administration of James Buchanan were Democrats employed to manage our national affairs?

2. While nominally acting in that capacity, did they apply the torch to our great national structure?

3. By scores of thousands did they shoot down in cold blood the men who were sent to extinguish the flames?

4. Victorious at last, in pure magnanimity, unparalleled in the history of civil government, did ours decline to take the life and property of those disloyal Democrats, as by the highest code of civilization it had an unquestioned right to do?

5. Do those same disloyal Democrats, who to-day owe their existence to a clemency unequaled since the world began—among whom are included traitors, incendiaries and murderers—now boldly affirm that they have done nothing to forfeit implicit confidence in their loyalty, honesty and high-mindedness, and demand their restoration to their former position?

6. Was not the recent decision by the American people touching this matter, and secured solely by Republican treachery and Democratic duplicity, a total reversal of every principle which a cautious and conservative business man would feel bound to observe in the management of his individual affairs?

Now, as the Examiner boasts of its "patriotism" and "honesty," we have a right to expect candid answers to these plain and pertinent questions. And we solicit the attention of the public to the manner in which they will be treated. The self-proclaimed truthfulness and sense of justice of the Examiner will here be put to a fair test. By all means let us see how the test will be met.

Mr. Blaine and the Solid South.

The speech which Mr. Blaine made, night before last, to his friends and neighbors who had known him for thirty years, restamps him as the political genius, the brilliant statesman, the white-plumed leader that he really is. Well may the New York Sun, a Democratic paper, say that the recent election has not shelved him, that he can not be shelved. If the speech above named had been delivered four weeks prior to the election, the unholy alliance of unreconstructed rebels, bedrabbled Beechers, malignant Schurzes and purblind Prohibitionists could not have defeated him. That speech alone would have secured for him 50,000 more votes, and from 5000 to 10,000 in the State of New York. Is it not a spectacle for gods and men that the section that only twenty-one years ago was chin deep in a rebellion that cost the Nation nearly 400,000 lives and $4,000,000,000 is again dominant, and that the section that saved the country from utter ruin is again to be dragged at the tail of its kite? Is there no portent in the fact that without an exception the Senators from the old Confederate States were so conspicuous in the Rebellion that it is no mere figure of speech to say that their hands are dripping with the blood of Northern men? Think, O traitorous Republicans! Consider, O venomous Prohibitionists! what have you done! Our readers know that we are not given to misanthropy. If we can do so in truth, we shall gladly chronicle the non-realization of our fears. But there is one fact that not a Democratic paper in the country would dare deny. Notwithstanding it record of treason, spoliation and blood—appalling deeds done by the aid of the Democratic party—yet the South never had more complete command of that party than it has to-day. And when we consider what have been the undesirable character of the leaders of the South, and of the Democratic party in general, for the last thirty years, candid men must admit that there is ground for serious apprehension.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[This is the TIMES-MIRROR'S Public Forum. Those who would stand thereon must first give the editor their real names and be responsible for their opinions and statements.]

Do I Stand Alone?

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: As you know, I am not a young man. For more than forty years I have been identified with the temperance cause, and closely associated with temperance people, and during that time I have preached as many sermons and made as many addresses as almost any man of my age, in aid of what I regarded as a great philanthropic movement. But from the birth of the Republican party I have also been identified with that; and I have believed, and I still believe, that the domination of its principles in our national affairs is absolutely indispensible to the well-being of the country. I have believed, and I still believe, that the principles and aims of the Democratic party are grossly inimical to the well-being of the country. The identical men who once carried it to the verge of destruction, who staked their lives on its downfall, are to-day the leading spirits in the Democratic party. On strict temperance principles, also, I have been irreconcilably opposed to that party. It has been, and still is, the rum party of the land—the inveterate foe of all sumptuary legislation. Probably four-fifths of the liquor sellers of the country to-day are Democrats. Therefore, the recent act of the temperance people in throwing themselves into the arms of the Democracy, and thus bringing into power the party which from the day of my majority I have persistently and conscientiously opposed on the most momentous political questions that ever agitated the nation, and with equal persistency and conscientiousness on strictly temperance principles, makes it imperative that as a consistent man I should withdraw from all temperance organizations; as they have been prostituted to the defeat of objects that, in my judgment incomparably transcend that, as an adjunct of the Democratic party, such organizations can ever accomplish. Nor do I believe that in this opinion I stand alone. Thousands of clergymen throughout the North were profoundly interested in the election of Blaine; and for years they had also been the ablest advocates of temperance in the country. How must they feel when they consider that a mere handful of hair-brained fanatics, rejecting the counsel of hundreds of the ablest and most active temperance men in America, have precipitated a political catastrophe the end of which is not yet. If while these fanatics are so weak that they cannot even launch the question of Prohibition upon the politics of their respective States, yet they expect to compel the Republican party to insert it as a plank in their National platform, they only show how hopelessly, insanely, impracticable they are. While I am thoroughly alive to all the evils of intemperance, yet not by my aid shall the temperance people have the power to repeat the crime against the country which they have just perpetrated.

A LOS ANGELES MINISTER.

Who Beat Blaine?

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: Various parties, it seems, are busy trying to give causes for Mr. Blaine's defeat. Some allege it was Mr. St. John and his partisans; others that it was Butler; while others again assert it was the Independents.

Either one of these may have been a cause sufficient, but there is one fact that seems to be overlooked, and that is the part Mr. Conkling played in the late political drama.

When we come to analyze the vote of Oneida county, New York, which is the home of Conkling, and compare it with that given for Hayes in 1876, and for Garfield in 1880, its significance becomes conspicuous.

For example: Oneida county in 1876 gave Hayes 1178 majority; in 1880 it gave Garfield 1946 majority; in 1884 it gave Cleveland 30 majority!

Now, if Oneida county had given Blaine its usual Republican majority of either '76 or '80, no one can doubt or say that he would not have received the electoral vote of the Empire State, and been triumphantly elected President of the United States in place of Mr. Cleveland.

St. John and Butler, with other causes, including the Independents, may have contributed, and doubtless did, to Mr. Blaine's defeat.

But the vote of Mr. Conkling's county locates a defection, without the aid of any of the others referred to, more than sufficient to work a Republican defeat, and which, if reversed, would have carried the State for Blaine by more than 3000 majority. Does any one doubt the ability of Mr. Conkling to control the vote of his own county? or of its entire action being in harmony with his views? Of course not, and he is to be rewarded for his treachery to his party and country with Democratic votes for Senator from New York! The voice of the Independents was none other than that of the so-called Stalwarts of New York—of which Mr. Conkling is chief; and as he piped behind the scenes, they danced until the crime of the century was committed, in the betrayal of his party and all her great interests to the enemy, to gratify a personal feeling of revenge. The nomination of Blaine was Conkling's opportunity, and he embraced it; but I hope the lesson, severe as it is, will not be lost on the people and Legislature of New York at its coming session in January. JOHN MURRAY.

The Library Fires.

The mutilation fiends, in spite of numerous protests of the reading public, continue to practice their acts in the rooms of the public library. Not only are valuable newspapers robbed of colored articles, but even books are mangled. It will not be well for one of the mutilators if he is detected.

Stubble Fires.

The stubble fires were so numerous yesterday that the smoke caused the sun to become yellowish. In time we will point out some better way to be able to be disposed of than reducing it to ashes.

The Wounded Boy.

Frank Kleiber, the boy so badly wounded by Del Poso's clubbing, was reported worse to-day, and but little hope is entertained of recovery. No trace of the villain has yet been discovered.

Personating an Officer.

Mr. Michael Lynch was arrested on Tuesday night, charged by one of the denizens of Sonorastown with personating an officer. Yesterday morning he was discharged by Mayor Thom, the complaining witness failing to appear. In a communication to the TIMES, Mr. Lynch states that while passing along the street he was hailed by the woman and told her to "shut up or he would have her arrested;" that she then called an officer and made the charge upon which he was arrested. Mr. Lynch feels that an indignity has been put upon him by taking the word of a public prostitute in preference to that of a reputable citizen, and says: "As a resident of this city for ten years, I protest against it, and against any police system that will put a reputable man in jail without offence and advertise his seeming disgrace to all his neighbors."

A Culvert Needed.

Yesterday the gutter on Vignes street was extended across the sidewalk into Aliso street, much to the discomfort of the passers-by, who are tempted to use profanity. For the sake of Christianity it is to be hoped that Street Superintendent Boyd will cause a culvert to be put there immediately.

Matrimonial.

On the 10th instant Rev. Mr. Richardson of Sacramento united in marriage Mrs. Adele E. Davis of that city and Dr. L. W. French of Los Angeles. Since his return the Doctor has kept quiet about the important event of his life, but cannot avoid the congratulations of his many friends.

Phillip's Engine.

The steam engine of Phillip's Cuscasian Laundry was excavated yesterday from the quicksands of the river, where it was found by the workmen constructing the levee. The machine is considerably rusted.

"ROSEDALE."

The Opening of a New Cemetery in this City.

A reporter of the TIMES paid a visit yesterday to the new Rosedale Cemetery in the western portion of the city. Some facts concerning this enterprise were published several months ago, and now that the work is so far completed that the grounds are open for the use of the public, further facts may be of interest. This cemetery fronts on Washington street, about three miles from the Courthouse. The proprietors showed great judgment in selecting the site they did, for it is certainly one of the choicest in the city and when the improvements in the shape of trees, shrubbery, roadways and flower gardens are completed no cemetery on this coast will present a more beautiful appearance. The grounds extend from Washington street to Pico street, and comprise sixty-five acres. There is a gentle slope to the summit and the view embraces the whole of the valley, and on clear days the ocean. There are a number of orange, pine and cypruc, all full-grown trees, and the owners will soon plant several thousand peppers and other evergreens. On the summit is located the Bryson monument and vault, a massive and beautiful structure, costing $20,000. The dimensions are 16x18 feet, and the height 21 feet. On the summit is to be a statue intended to represent "Rest." The total height, with this figure, is 27 feet. The exterior is of Vermont marble and California granite, taken from the Santa Anita quarry. The walk on the outside will be of Vermont marble and granite curbing, with black and white tiling in front of the entrance. The interior will be of Rutland marble, highly finished. There are to be twenty-one receptacles. The floor is of white Rutland and Tennessee marble. The marble columns and other exterior work are very handsome.

The cemetery is now in use, and there have been already twelve interments. In view of the rapid growth of the city a new burial place for the dead had become an imperative necessity, and it is fortunate that such a beautiful and convenient site was obtainable.

Something New.

At the last meeting of the City Council, Mr. S. H. Sewall, manager of the Molecular Telephone Company for Southern California, made application for the privilege of erecting poles and running the necessary wires in the city, which was referred to the proper committee. It is proposed to make the telephone service so efficient and so cheap that it will come into universal use instead of being the exception, as now. The Molecular Telephone Company claim to have the most perfect instruments ever constructed, and to own patents that will give them great advantages over the older companies. In Los Angeles it is proposed to give the city full use of an instrument for each of the fire companies for the city offices, etc., which is certainly liberal. It is also proposed to make the service much cheaper than that given by the old company. Mr. Sewall is full of enterprise and has all the financial backing necessary to make his enterprise a success.

Thieves at Yuma.

Yuma, Arizona, on the line of the Southern Pacific road, seems at present to be overrun with thieves. The other day Conductor John Denear, who is an old railroad man and well known in California, and who now runs a passenger train between Yuma and El Paso, left his small gripsack, containing the money he had collected on his trip from El Paso, his pistol, all his tickets and a valuable diamond pin, at the office of the hotel, as was his usual custom. The next morning it could not be found, having been made away with during the night by thieves, who are said to abound at present in that place.

Lately there have been a good many box cars robbed at Yuma, and an investigation of a vault in the graveyard last week discovered fourteen cases of rubber boots, ten cases of canned goods, and two boxes of candles hidden there by thieves.

The Apaches Again.

The telegraph of yesterday announced that a band of Chiricahuas are raiding in Presidio county, Texas, and are pursued by soldiers. This cannot be any renegade band from the White Mountain reservation, as General Crook has all the Indians whom he brought in last summer too busy raising crops and cattle to go off on any wild-goose chase. He has never broken faith with the Apaches, and that is the great secret of his power over them, a power such that when he left the unknown interior of the Sierra Madre the warriors came into the reservation and surrendered solely on their faith in the assured word of the "Gray Fox." It is probable these Presidio county Indians are some wild ones, who have yet to learn the Chiricahua creed, namely, that the "Gray Fox" is all-powerful, at least so far as Indians are concerned.

A Deserter Surrenders.

Yesterday afternoon, as Chief Cuddy was sitting in his office, a young man came in and said that he wanted to see the Chief only. When alone he stated that he wanted to surrender himself as a deserter from the United States army. He gave his name as John E. Taylor, and claims to be from Fort Grant, Arizona. United States Deputy Marshal Dunlap will take him to San Francisco.

Republican Primaries.

At a meeting of the Republican City Committee last night it was decided to call primaries on Saturday, the 22d, from 12 o'clock to 5 p. m., and the City Convention for the nomination of candidates for city officers on Monday, the 24th. The city election occurs on Monday, the 1st of December.

Dr. A. W. Steinburn, of Tucson, is stopping at the Pico. The doctor is largely interested in mining properties in Sonora.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Smith have just returned from a visit to the East, and are delighted to get back to enjoy our delightful weather.

Mrs. M. L. Peabody and the Misses M. C. and A. L. Peabody left yesterday for a few months' visit to the northern portion of the State.

James Foord, Supervisor elect from the First District, was in the city yesterday. The Republican party is fortunate in finding as square a man as Mr. Foord to serve them in the County Board.

Los Angeles Excursions.

The TIMES office receives on an average twenty inquiries a day as to one or more of the many excursion parties that are being regularly conducted from the East to Southern California, but as none of the able managers either advertise or use printer's ink in any other way, it is impossible to furnish any information of value. No one seems to know whether Baker, Toler, Warner Bros & Crosby, Phillips, Raymond, Day, Sigler, and the other gentlemen engaged in the business of drumming up recruits for the Italy of America, come in pairs, in trios, or go it alone. No one knows when they leave any given point in the East, or when they are due to arrive here. The able managers seem to think that it will only pay to advertise in the east, because the people who are to come live there. But a little reflection would show them that a majority of the people who come here now already have friends and acquaintances settled here, and that every person settled here is in himself an emigrant agent to bring more. Therefore, if the aforesaid able managers will take the trouble to let the people know something about these excursions it will gratify them, probably make money for the managers, and certainly be a relief to the good-natured clerks in the TIMES office.

Kleiber's Condition.

At 1 o'clock this morning George Kleiber was lying in a semi-comatose condition, with a high fever. He had not spoken a word for several hours. The physicians give no hope of recovery.

The police report that Del Poso was seen in town yesterday morning at seven o'clock, but the parties who saw him were afraid to make an attempt to arrest him, as Del Poso is armed, and has sent word to the police by his friends that he will not surrender. At 1 o'clock this morning the police were confident of his capture before sunrise. "Stinkfoot Mary" told the police that Del Poso was secreted on Ducommun street, but a thorough search of that vicinity failed to find him.

For City Attorney.

Another candidate for City Attorney has entered the lists, as a competitor for the Republican nomination, in the person of Judge Edwin Baxter. Mr. Baxter is a lawyer and citizen of standing in this city. How he stood in his former home, Michigan, may be judged from the fact that in 1880 he was warmly commended for the Attorney-Generalship of the State by one of its leading Republican papers, the Grand Haven Herald, which spoke of him as an "able lawyer," a "careful jurist," an "upright citizen" and "always a straight Republican."

Hewitt vs. Hewitt.

In yesterday's Herald R. H. Hewitt denies being the author of the article, signed R. H. W., which article he had fathered on the streets. His simple denial, unsupported, requires some backing besides his own word, as he does not possess the reputation in this community of being a young George Washington. It is simply a case of Hewitt against Hewitt on the question of veracity.

A Lost Note-Book.

A TIMES reporter lost his note-book the other day. It is full of hyeroglyphics understood by nobody but the owner, but exceedingly valuable to him. The finder will receive thanks upon returning it to the editorial office.

Repeated History.

The overflow of the Colorado river last summer made Fort Yuma an island. By looking over the files of the Los Angeles News of 1862, the same incident is found there recorded. The river then spread over its banks to Pilot Knob, the same as it did this year.

A New Prince.

The rights of A. P. Ruffe, of Gospel Swamp, to the title of Porcine Prince is disputed by Sheriff A. T. Currier, of Spadra. Yesterday he delivered four car-loads of hogs to M. Dodsworth & Co., of this city. Mr. Currier says he can make a living outside of his office.

Petty Larceny.

George Jones was arrested at the new depot yesterday by Officer Steele for having a lunch basket and a pair of blankets in his possession unlawfully. Jones will be arraigned before Justice Morgan this morning.

Center Street.

Center street extends from Macy street on the north to First street on the south, and is the next regular street to the river bed. Now that a levee is being built and lots are rising in price, the property owners along Center street want their thoroughfare graded.

Change in Business.

John Zens has sold out his livery business and will now devote himself solely to the wood and coal trade exclusively hereafter. He has put in a steam engine, with which to run his wood saw.

France on Top.

An enthusiastic native of La Belle France has hoisted the flag of France over the American flag on his residence on Sainsevaine street, and has the colors "nailed to the mast."

The always liberal Baroness Burdette-Coutts just sent a considerable sum of money to the distressed fishermen in the South and West of Ireland for the purchase of new boats and tackle, enabling them to cast their lines in pleasant places.

Miss J. Anna Gould of Lowell, Mass., has taken rooms in the Foster Block, where she is to conduct a first-class dressmaking establishment. Miss Gould has been in the employ of one of the largest houses in Lowell, and is an artist in her business.
